Roc Aventus - Holland

About Roc Aventus

A brand new premises the size of two footballfields, employing over 1500 staff and 6000 students from the Apeldoorn region and beyond.

A college offering a full choice of courses leading up to any profession in our modern society thinkable.

Levels range from 1 to 4, which means that students will obtain a qualification from a starting worker in industry, to a starting entrepreneur.

Level 4 courses give entrance to higher education.

Issue:

After having finished secondary education, students focus on competence based learning in the field of industry. In our case the Hotel and hospitality industry (level 4).

Therefore the number of lessons offering language structure has severely been limited.

We need the students to learn, train and keep up with these language aspects anyway in order to master the languages to the required CEF levels.

Objective:

English as their first foreign language needs to be offered in an attractive way in order to learn, train and keep up with those language aspects we as a teaching team cannot offer enough lessons for.

For many students their second foreign language is totally new. Therefore a structured course offering much material in a varied way in a limited number of teacher's hours is required.

Solution:

Offering our students a reliable language learning program that is accessible at school as well as anywhere/anytime else makes language learning especially versatile.

The tutor tools, if used in an effective way, guarantee that students really do the work required and spend the time they really need in order to learn the language, with an excellent overview of their achievements.

Our students all take English and either French, German, or Spanish. So each student needs two TMM accounts.

Due to the fact that the program offers a large variety of levels, subjects and exercises, they feel the work is useful and mostly fun to do. Some exercises however are really long (much work) and tend to get boring ... Especially students that get stuck lose motivation easily. The general feeling is that students that find language learning tedious and difficult really benefit from the TMM program.

"I think the TELL ME MORE software offers my students the language learning material that helps learning all required skills in languages in a structured way, provided I as a teacher supports and monitors them using the tutor tools in an effective way. The students do not only get motivated after having started up the program, but they remain motivated during many hours of working at it"

Possible improvements

Although TMM offers business language, I would prefer the content to cover Hotel and Hospitality subjects.
